

COMMUNITY ACTION SERVICES & FOOD BANK

Community Action Services and Food Bank is a nonprofit organization in Provo, Utah, that provides a two-step process to solving poverty:

first, to provide the resources to help stabilize the person's crisis, and then to help them rebuild their life. Since 1967, they have helped stabilize the crises in the lives of people in need by meeting their basic critical needs (such as food and housing) while providing them with the long-term solutions needed to rebuild their financial and social self-sufficiency, enabling them to break out of poverty.
